Wednesday, July 23, A. D., 1879,

for the purpose of nominating candidates for State officers to be elected at the next general election and to transact such other business as may be deemed appropriate.

Each Senate and each Assembly district of the State is entitled to two delegates in the Convention.

We also invite the Republicans of the State, and all who are in sympathy with the principles and policy of the Republican party, to attend a mass meeting to be held in the Capitol Park, in Madison, at 2 o'clock p m, on Wednesday, July 23d, for the purpose of appropriately celebrating the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of the organization of the Republican party in Wisconsin. It is especially desired that as many as possible of those who participated at the meeting in July, 1854, will be present. Distinguished speakers from this and other States will be secured to address the meeting. HORACE RUBLEE, Chairman.

Republican State Central Committee.
Madison, June 18, 1879.

The Democrats are beginning to regard the 5th of November, 1880, as the day of wrath for their party.

A general quietness seems to pervade in the Democratic party concerning the Presidential question. Have they been struck dumb by the significant signs of time?

Some of the Democrats in Washington may think it is hot in the District of Columbia, but just wait till they get home, and they will think the thermometer is going up in a balloon.

When a man is sentenced to death, the Judge sympathizingly recommends the culprit to the mercy of his God. But when President Hayes reads a death-warrant, in the shape of a veto, to the Democrats, he don't say a word that will give them hope.

When that eminent Democrat and prophet —John G. Thompson, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, of Ohio,—said the other day that General Ewing could not be elected Governor, he was immediately deposed and counted a bad Democrat.

While the Republicans are celebrating with inspiring music and eloquent speeches, the birth of the party, the Democrats will hang around the outside of the Capitol fence at Madison, and bewail their lot, and exclaim, why were we made at all? and the multitude on the inside will give that conundrum up.

The emigration to Europe is much greater this season than last. All the steamships plying between New York and Europe are loaded with those seeking health and rest on the other side of the waters. On Saturday, six steamers sailed from New York, and each had a full list of cabin passengers and many were refused. The season thus far has been very profitable for the ocean steamers, and indicates very strikingly that the general business of the country is growing better.

The friends of ex-Governor Ludington—and even Ludington himself—claimed that all the delegates from Milwaukee to the Republican State Convention, would be in favor of "Bluff old Hall." It seems, however, that their attempt to forestall public opinion, and to bulldoze the Milwaukee Republicans, will prove a failure. Of the ten delegates already elected to the State Convention one-half are for Governor Smith, and it is very reasonable to suppose that he will have a majority of the Cream City delegates in his favor. There is a moral to this which ex-Governor Ludington and his over-zealous friends will do well to heed.

The fifth veto message of the President which was sent to the House on Monday, shows up the Democratic programme in a very bad light. The message is brief and very pointed, and, to those Democrats who have any conscience left, it must serve as a chilling rebuke. The President is bound by the constitution and his oath of office to faithfully execute the laws, but under the bill providing for the payment of marshals and their deputies, he is prohibited from executing what the constitution says shall be "the supreme law of the land." The laws must be obeyed, and the President is required to see that they are obeyed, but the Democratic majority in Congress is seeking to prevent the President from doing his official duty so that his neglect of duty will be an impeachable offense. Logan took occasion to say in the Senate on Saturday, that no such legislation as that was ever presented to an intelligent people by their representatives. This kind of legislation is most dangerous, and it is surprising that men professing intelligence and practical common sense, to say nothing of loyalty, can be found in the American Congress who would vote for nullifying a law which has never been repealed.

THE REPUBLICAN CELEBRATION.

The arrangements are being perfected for the great Republican celebration at Madison on the 23d of July. Mr. Horace Rublee, Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, announces officially that he has made arrangements with the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, with the Chicago and Northwestern, and with some other roads, to carry persons who desire to attend the anniversary exercises, at half the regular rates. Special trains will also be put upon the roads if the occasion requires them. These arrangements will afford a great many Republicans of Wisconsin an opportunity to attend the greatest political demonstration ever witnessed in this State. The number which will join in the festivities of that day will be swelled to many thousands. The occasion which will call out such a vast multitude of Republicans, the memories of the past twenty-five years, the astonishing achievements of the party, and the speech which will be made, will conspire to make the 23d day of July one long to be remembered by the Republicans of Wisconsin.

Mr. Rublee announces that he has invited Senator Chandler, of Michigan, to speak at the anniversary, and that he has accepted the invitation. General Garfield has also been urged to be present, and he has kindly responded that he will endeavor to arrange his business so that he can attend the exercises. The indications now are that the celebration will be a remarkable one as regards the enthusiasm and interest which will then be manifested and the great concourse which will join in chanting the praises of the great party and its brilliant record.

THE FATE OF ANOTHER GLOVER.

More than two years Senator Davis, of West Virginia, made some very serious charges against the Treasury officials. He thought he smelt fraud. He had an idea he could walk through the wilderness of figures in the Department of the Treasury, and find Republican corruption which would be a soft "find" for the Democrats. For days he talked loud about the crookedness in the Treasury, and wanted a committee to help him hunt it up, so the Democrats could use it for a campaign document. A Republican Senate gave Mr. Davis a Committee two years ago, with full power to rake the Treasury from top to bottom. That Committee went to work, and Glover could not have shown more zeal in hunting up Republican frauds than did the Senator from West Virginia. Two years of work and a good many thousands of dollars were spent to satisfy the singular curiosity of Mr. Davis. What has the Committee found? Absolutely nothing. Senator Windom, the other day, asked the unanimous consent of the Senate that Mr. Davis might tell all he knew about the great frauds in the Treasury. He urged him to make a clean breast of the whole thing, and inform the Senate just how matters stood in that important department of the government, and Davis objected. Then Senator Allison, of Iowa, asked that all the testimony taken by the Davis Investigating Committee be printed for the use of the Senate and the information of the country. This put Davis on nettles. He squirmed in his chair, and floundered in his attempt to make any reply. The Republicans pressed their point, and were about to annihilate Davis completely, when Beck and Voorhees came to his assistance. But they did not mend his condition much. The Democrats were opposed to making a report concerning the result of the investigation, or to have any part of the report printed for the public use. They wanted Congress to adjourn before anything was said about the matter, so that they could shout fraud during the fall campaign. But this programme was vetoed. The report will not go into print because the Democrats will not allow it to be printed, but all the members of the Committee except Davis, say they found no frauds or crookedness whatever.

Notwithstanding this, Davis and his party continue to slander the Treasury officials, by charging dishonest practices against them, and they now join hands in the attempt to keep the result of the investigation from the public. The attempt to injure the official character of the officers in the Treasury is a contemptible trick, and is equally as damning as the effort to keep the facts from the people.

A Cruel Deception on the Negroes.

From the New Orleans Times, June 25.

A man who represented that he was a Government agent went through Holmes county, Miss., about two weeks ago, stating that on the following Sunday a free train would arrive at Durant, Miss., for the purpose of transporting all who wished to go to Kansas. He gave every darkey a small flag which was to be stuck in the land they squatted upon in Kansas, thus giving themselves a valid title to the ground. For all of this information, of course, the poor negroes had to pay, and they gave the man whatever little money they had. So shrewd was the wretch, and so graphic the picture he painted of life in Kansas, that the news spread like wildfire through the country, and on all sides the darkies commenced to gather up their traps preparatory to the long trip before them. Such property as they could not take with them they disposed of at any prices they could get. Cows were sold at $2 apiece, chickens at 1 cent apiece, and other things in like proportion and at a similar sacrifice. On Sunday, the 15th of June, about 1,000 negroes assembled at the railroad station at Durant prepared, as well as their slim means and ill judgments could best allow, for their journey to Kansas. Of course the free train did not arrive, and these poor, betrayed blacks are now stranded high and dry, their homes, cattle, furniture, and in some instances their land, all gone, and they thrown upon the mercy and charity of the people of Holmes County.

Put Her Foot in It.

Apropos of the British nobility, a young American lady, recently returned from abroad, put her foot in it one day when dining in London. She was sitting next to the queen's cousin, Prince Lanigan, but not catching his name on his being presented, incidentally inquired what it was. "I beg pardon, Mr.——!" and then paused for a reply. "Smith," laughed the Prince possibly thinking it a good joke that any one should have to inquire. "Why not Brown?" retorted the fair American. There was a ghastly pause, and the young lady thought it very singular that the gentleman on the other side should trample on her foot. "A nice thing you've done," he whispered at the first opportunity, "What?" queried she, open-eyed. "Is it possible you don't know that the Queen, who is the Prince's cousin, is called Mrs. Brown—John Brown, you know?"—New York Correspondence Boston Times.

LAST OF CONGRESS.

Special to the Gazette.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Turner, of Kentucky, made a personal explanation to-day, denying that he was ever drunk on the floor of the House.

There was filibustering on the bill to prohibit assessments of government employes for political purposes.

The Senate adopted a resolution to adjourn at five o'clock this afternoon. The House agreed to it by a vote of 93 to 65.

A recess was taken till four o'clock, after passing the bill to prohibit the duty on quinine.

THE RECORD.

Zach Chandler's Arraignment of the Democratic Party.

WASHINGTON, June 30—After the adjournment resolution had been laid aside in the Senate this afternoon, Senator Chandler arose, and, clearing his throat, with some emphasis began to clear his mind, arranging the Democratic party as follows:

1. For having resorted to revolutionary measures to carry out their partisan projects, by attempting to coerce the Executive by withholding supplies, and thus accomplishing by starvation the destruction of the government which they had failed to overthrow by arms.

2. For having injured the business interests of the country by forcing the present extra session after liberal compromises were tendered to them prior to the close of the last session.

3. For having attempted to throw away the results of the recent war by again elevating State over national sovereignty. We sacrificed more than 300,000 lives and expended $5,000,000,000 to put down this heresy and to perpetuate national life. They surrendered this at Appomattox, but now they attempt to renew this pretension.

4. For having attempted (there are honorable exceptions, and long may they be remembered) to damage the business interests of the country by forcing silver coin into circulation of less value than it represents, thus swindling the laboring man and producer, by compelling him to accept 85 cents for a dollar, and thus enrich bullion owners at the expense of the laborer. Twelve hundred million dollars is paid yearly to labor alone in this country, and by forcing an 88 cent dollar on the working men you swindle them out of $180,000,000 yearly.

5. For having removed, without cause, experienced officers and employes of this body, some of whom served and were wounded in the Union army, and with appointing men who had, in the Rebel army, attempted to destroy the government.

6. For having instituted a secret and illegitimate tribunal, the edicts of which have been made the supreme governing power of the Congress, in defiance of the fundamental principles of the Constitution. The decrees of this junta are known, although its motives are hidden.

7. For having held up for public admiration that arch rebel, Jefferson Davis [great laughter on the Democratic side], declaring he was inspired by motives as sacred and noble as animated Washington, and as having rendered services in attempting to destroy the Union which would equal in history Grecian fame and Roman glory. [Laughter] You may laugh. The people of the North will make you laugh from the other side of your faces. [Renewed laughter.]

8. For having undertaken to blot from the statute book of the nation wise laws rendered necessary by the war and its results, and insuring "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" to the emancipated freedmen who are now so bulldozed that they are seeking peace in exile, although urged to remain by shotguns.

9. For having attempted to repeal wise legislation which excludes those who served under the rebel flag from holding commissions in the army and navy of United States.

10. For having introduced a large amount of legislation for the exclusive benefit of the States recently in rebellion, and which it enacted would bankrupt the national treasury.

11. For having conspired to destroy all that the Republican party has accomplished, and many of them breaking their oaths of allegiance to the United States, and pledging their lives their fortunes and their sacred honors to overthrow this government.

SUTRO'S SUCCESS.

The Completion of the Sutro Tunnel Celebrated with Blazing Bonfires and the Thunders of Cannon.

SUTRO, Nev., June 30—To-night, the mountain-tops overlooking the Washoe silver region and the Carson Valley, are ablaze with bonfires, and the echoes of cannon and discharges of giant powder are heard in every direction. The event which is being celebrated is the final completion of the Sutro Tunnel for the reception of the water from the Comstock mines, after ten years of ceaseless labor, day and night, and the expenditure of six millions of dollars. The powerful engines of the combination shaft of the Hale & Norcross and Savage mines, were started up this morning at precisely 6 o'clock, discharging their water into the Sutro tunnel, at the mouth of which it made its appearance in one hour and twenty minutes, showing a temperature at first of 101 degrees, which gradually increased to 118 degrees. In eight hours the water in the long-drowned-out mines was lowered 100 feet. Everything worked to a charm. The wooden boxes, consisting of three-inch tongue and grooved Sierra Nevada zinc, did not show a leak, and not even a particle of steam escaped from them, so that the tunnel after the hot water was turned in showed barely an increase of temperature. The water from the Sierra Nevada, Union, Ophir, the Bonanza Mines, Best & Belcher, and Gould & Curry, will not be turned in for a couple of weeks; and after all finds its way into the tunnel, it is expected that one of the double line of boxes will have ample capacity to carry off all the water. As an engineering work the success surpasses all expectations, and, while the people are rejoicing, this must be considered the proudest day in the life of Adolph Sutro.

ROBERT COLLYER.

NEW YORK, June 30—The following letter from Robert Collyer was read yesterday at the morning service of the Church of the Messiah:

Trustees of the Church of the Messiah, New York—GENTLEMEN: Your favor of the 9th of June, containing the call your church has given me to be its pastor, reached me duly by the hands of Mr. Hale, and I have to say in answer the call is accepted. I will do my best to serve you. I can say this without hesitation. While I feel that the worth of my ministry among you must rest with God, and in the generous co-operation of those about me, I cannot but believe that a man whose life is still in the main before him would serve you better than I can, and I said this to you frankly. You have not thought so. We must leave this now to time and the great Providence in whose hands we all rest. I hope to begin my work among you on the first Sunday in October at the latest, and with pure regard, yours,

ROBERT COLLYER.

Chicago, June 20, 1879.

REPUBLICAN DELEGATES

MILWAUKEE, June 30—At the Fifth District Senatorial Convention held this afternoon, Messrs. Zahrlant and Commerga were elected delegates to the State Republican Convention. Of the ten delegates so far elected, one-half are in favor of the renomination of Governor William E. Smith. Of the remainder, some are not positive in their choice.

Governor Smith is in the city, looking over the political field. He claims that of ten delegates already elected three are outspoken in their advocacy of his renomination, while two others are morally certain to vote for him; so that, in reality, he will divide the votes of delegates elect with Mr. Ludington. He says Ludington's supporters were decidedly in error when they laid claim to uniform success at the caucuses Saturday night.

WHAT WHISKY DOES.

ELKHORN, June 30.—Leander Waffle, a carpenter, 55 years of age, committed suicide here by hanging in his house during the absence of his family. Drunkenness was the cause.

A Prison Letter and a Button.

A lady in this city has a common military button which has something of a history. During the late war, C. C. Comee, of Jefferson county, a Union soldier, was, with a number of comrades taken captive and confined in Libbey Prison. Some time after he managed to change his suit of blue, and sent it to his wife. About two years later one of the brass buttons which had adorned the coat was used as a plaything by a child of the soldier.

The lower part of the button unexpectedly became detached, and revealed in the hollow space a quantity of paper, which was very neatly packed. An examination of the button's mysterious contents disclosed a letter consisting of five pages, each sheet being about three inches wide and five inches long. The missive was addressed to Mrs. Comee, and contained an account of her husband's captivity, and also related the family matters. The letter and button are still in a state of preservation, and are highly prized by the lady who succeeded in obtaining them.—Troy Press.

Wonderful Surgical Operation.

New Orleans Times.

Dr. A. W. Smyth performed recently another operation, which for a second time places him in the front rank of living surgeons. In the first operation for pneurism of the subclavian artery, he stands alone. The second, a removal of a floating kidney, has been performed twice—once by a German physician, and the second time by Dr. Smyth at the Hotel Dieu less than two weeks ago. The patient, Madame Honorette, of Galveston, for eight years has suffered from what was believed to be an abdominal tumor, which seemed moyable, could easily be felt with the hand, and gave considerable pain and much uneasiness. Three operations were performed. At first an incision was made in front of the abdomen, but the operations failed to discover any tumor, and sewed up the incision without relieving the trouble. Another surgeon inserted a tape into what he believed to be a tumor keeping it in its place. This in time gave away, and two others, in attempting to substitute a new one, broke their needle, of course failing utterly in the operation. Mrs. Honorette came to New Orleans, and visited the Charity Hospital several times. Physicians there diagonized the case to be a floating kidney, and not, as she supposed, a tumor. The lady exhibited the utmost courage, but was extremely solicitous to have another operation performed. At length, after a good deal of persuasion, after having informed the patient that the operation had been performed but once in the world, Dr. Smyth consented to undertake it.

The lady, by previous arrangement, agreed to be at Hotel Dieu on Tuesday, June 3, and reached there before Dr. Smyth and the medical gentlemen who were to witness the operation arrived. She manifested not the slightest tremor, assuming the position indicated by the surgeon. Dr. Smyth made an incision in the lumbar region about two inches from the spinal column, took out the right kidney, found to be loose, and sewed up the wound. It readily healed, sloughing off the silk thread on the eleventh day, and yesterday morning Mrs. Honorette walked to church. She is entirely restored to health, and walks without pain.

MODERN TELEGRAPHY.

Professor Royal E. House's New Invention.

From the Utica Herald:

A new invention in telegraphy is announced by Professor Royal E. House, of Binghampton and commended for its cheapness, simplicity and rapidity of operation. The inventor has been engaged on his plans twelve years, and has covered them with six patents. In general terms he describes the invention as "a system of harmonized mechanism constituting a system of complete electric telegraph, and composed of an instrument by which the written messages received at a station are recorded in the symbols of a transposed scale alphabet, in a fillet of paper to be used as the medium for automatically transmitting the message from one station to another, and a receiving instrument at the receiving station to automatically reproduce a facsimile of the original recorded fillet of paper, and therefrom automatically produce on a harmonized printing machine, independent of the line, a dispatch for delivery printed in the ordinary typographic characters." Three machines are used in each office. The first is fitted with a key board much like the type-writer. By this the message to be transmitted is [illegible]ised in a slip of paper, answering the business in response to a touch of the keys, and making slits in the paper, the difference in length distinguishing the letters. This machine is purely mechanical. From it the paper passes to a transmitting electrical machine. Symbols for station calls, distinct from anything possible in a message, are cut into the paper. Pressure on the feed cylinder connects the electric current. All the machines on the line are thereby set in motion. Only the machine at the station represented by the call gets the message. Knives drop into and leave the slits of the fillet of paper as it moves along, thus connecting and breaking the electric current. Corresponding slits are cut in paper by the receiving machine. These machines are fitted with two sets of knives—one for sending, the other for receiving. The incised paper is then passed through a third machine, which, acting automatically, prints the message on a slip of paper in plain type.

Among the advantages claimed for this system are these: First, a message can be sent and recorded in all offices in the line, whether the operators at the receiving offices are on duty or asleep. Second, one office can be called and messages sent of which all other offices will receive nothing. Third, telegraphing is made cheaper, quicker and less liable to error. Professor House estimates of capacity and cost, as compared with the Morse system of operating over the same distance, give these figures: Time for calling up station and transmitting a message of twenty words by the Morse system, two minutes; same by House system, six seconds; cost in first case, 26 cents; cost in second case, 2 cents 5½ mills. As yet the invention has not been tested only in Professor House's laboratory. There it is claimed to work admirably and to do all that is claimed for it. The first exhibition of its working was given last week. A writer in Binghamton Republican says he timed several messages of twenty words each, and the maximum time of transmission was six seconds.

Wouldn't Have Him for a Pall-Bearer.

From the Pittsburgh (Pa.) Telegraph.

Some time ago a citizen of this place was very ill. He fell into a stupor which lasted three or four days. He was carefully watched by his wife and one or two ladies from the neighborhood. One afternoon the attending physician said he could not live through the day, and the sorrowing wife, with a view to having everything in readiness for the end, held a consultation with her friends as to the arrangements for the funeral. The conversation was held at the bedside of the dying man, and in a short time all the details were arranged except the names of those who should be asked to be pall-bearers. Three or four young gentlemen had been selected, when the wife said, in the [illegible]sobbing tone suitable to the occasion: "How would Mr. So-and-so do?" "Oh, he would do nicely," echoed the chorus of friends, "He's such a nice young man." There was a sudden movement under the coverings of the bed, and the dying husband slowly raised himself on one elbow, rubbed his eyes, and said in a weak voice: "No, he won't do. I ain't going to have that fellow for one of my pall-bearers. The ladies were astonished at this revival of the sick man, but the wife laid him back gently on the pillows, and said soothingly: "Never mind dear; don't worry. This is a matter that need not trouble you. It is a sad duty which we will have to perform after you are gone." "No, it isn't," said the husband crossly. "That fellow isn't going to be one of my pall-bearers. I don't like him, and I never did, and if you are going to have him, I'll get well, see if I don't." Again he fell back in the bed and became unconscious, but in a few hours there came a change for the better. To-day he walks the streets as hale and hearty as any man.

A Wonderful Egg.

The Barnesville (Ga.) Gazette describes a most wonderful hen's egg. It is the shape of a perfect human head; the little black feathers, like hair and more resembling hair than feathers, are parted just as a young man of dandy order would part his fascinating locks, very near the middle. The white streak across the skull, where the hair is parted, is as visible as any human skull ever exhibited after emerging from the barber's shampoo and combs. The forehead and top of the skull are as perfect a representation of the human skull as Napoleon's was. The arched black brow, the twirled mustache and the delicate goatee are plainly visible. The eye, the ear and nose all look as if life performed its mission through them, so perfect do they appear. The delicate outline of the forehead and little wrinkles, without which no human face could be itself, can be traced. The nicely chiseled chin is formed by a gradual tapering from the oval cheek. The rear of no human skull is more perfect in construction or appearance. The face of no human being is more interesting to look at. It is simply a wonderful phenomenon and it cannot receive justice from human discription.

How Grant Should Be Received.

From the San Francisco Alta, June 13.

But little more than a month will elapse and Gen. U. S. Grant will have entered our Golden Gate. After long years of absence he revisits the State of which he was one of the pioneers, and for which he has ever had a warm sympathy. To be a Californian has been with him the open sesame to a kindly greeting and a hearty hand-shake. Whether when unknown to fame, or, later, as the people's hope, or, later still, honored with the highest tokens of confidence and gratitude, the man never faltered in his early-acquired love for California. As a soldier, as General of the Army, or as President he never forgot his years spent on the Pacific slope. Abroad he has been greeted, feted, and honored as an American citizen, and received ovations little less than those paid to a mighty Emperor. These have been awarded to him, not from the sense of exalted position once held by him, not entirely because he is a citizen of the great land of freedom, and certainly not because his name has been mentioned with political probabilities but rather as a man; and it is in this way that California—nay, the whole of the Pacific slope—should welcome his return to his own dear land. California, more especially, should seek to do him honor as a California. Let us for once agree to ignore the fact that General Grant is a Republican. Let us throw aside all the innuendoes of political aspirations which have been prevalent in connection with his return, and let the whole Pacific slope, irrespective of political proclivities, unite in doing honor to the call of the nation, when her very existence trembled in the balance, and saved her and preserved her to her loving children. Such a reception would wake the patriotic hearts of the reunited nation, and on the pages of history would the lie be given to the statement that the Republics are ungrateful. Let us briefly suggest how [illegible] might be arranged, for as [illegible]icans we can scarcely accord to General Grant a less enthusiastic greeting than he has received from the hands of strangers—and more especially as we of California are noted as generous toward our former sons. Let our prominent citizens convene at the Chamber of Comerce, as a preliminary step. Let them invite the Governors of this State, of Oregon, Nevada, Arizona, Washington Territory; the Mayor of this and all prominent cities of the Pacific slope; the representatives of the military and National Guard, and the more prominent of the citizens generally, and form a permanent committee to arrange the details for such a reception as as will redound to the credit of our State and befit the man we seek to honor.

A Dawning Humorist.

"There were two men got into a fight in front of the store to-day," said a North end man at the supper table, "and I tell you it looked pretty hard for one of them. The biggest one grabbed a cart stake and drew it back. I thought sure he was going to knock the other's brains out, and I jumped in between them.

The family had listened with wrapt attention, and as the head paused in his narrative, the young heir, whose respect for his father's bravery was immeasurable, proudly remarked:

"He couldn't knock any brains out of you, could he father?"

The head of the family gazed long and earnestly at the heir, as if to decide evidence of a dawning humorist, but as he continued with great innocence to munch his fourth tart, he gasped and resumed his supper.—Rockland Courier.

AN ENGINEER'S MEMORABLE TRIP.

Mashing Two Horses and Buggies, Killing Two Men, and Narrowly Missing a Third.

Syracuse (N. Y.) Journal: Engineer Wood left Rochester with a special Chicago express—a heavy train—somewhat behind time. In order to reach Syracuse on time he was compelled to run unusually fast. On reaching Newark a man was seen driving a horse and wagon, and despite the warning of the track hands at work on the crossing, he whipped up his horse and attempted to cross the flying train. As might have been expected the horse had but fairly got upon the track when the locomotive was upon the moving vehicle. The horse was instantly killed being thrown to one side of the track. The wagon was smashed to atoms. Engineer Wood stopped the train as soon as possible, and on looking, the body of a man was found in front of the boiler, dead. He was an aged man, but his identity was not established at the time the train left. The train was backed up to the station, and the body removed to shelter.

Nothing further happened until the train was near Port Byron, where the engineer saw another man driving an aged and poor horse. Seeing the train the driver began whipping up his poor old horse for the purpose of crossing the track before the train. Seeing that he would be unable to do so, Engineer Wood blew his whistle and reversed his engine, but the man whipped the harder, and had nearly got across the track, when the engine caught the rear wheel of the wagon and in an instant the vehicle was reduced to kindling wood. The horse escaped serious injury, but the man, an old one, was thrown into the air to the height of the smoke stack. In descending, the man landed on the ground on his head and shoulders. The train was stopped, and it was found that the man was insensible and had sustained several scalp wounds. He was taken to Port Byron and left. He was still unconscious when the train left, up to which time his name had not been ascertained. Hoping his unpleasant and unsought experience was at an end Engineer Wood was soon under rapid headway for Syracuse. But he was [illegible] without another severe shock to his feelings, for as he was nearing Weedsport he discovered walking ahead of him on the track a man going in the same direction as the train. Immediately after he saw a woman with a long sunbonnet on her head approaching the man, and a freight train was passing along abreast of the man and woman, the latter looking down and approaching certain death unless he should see the flying express. To reverse the engine was the first move of Engineer Wood, after which by dint of successive tootings on the whistle he finally succeeded in making the man look around and see his danger. Fortunately he had presence of mind to yell to the woman, who, with the man, barely had time to get clear of the track when the slowing down train still at a high rate of speed, dashed by them. Engineer Wood says the experience of this morning is sufficient to last him a lifetime.

An Unfortunate Oath.

New York Times.

In a notice of the death of Major Lawrence Williams, at Easthampton, Mass., on the 21st inst., one of our city contemporaries stated that he was a graduate of West Point, and "spent a portion of his life in the regular army." Major Williams was long a polished, brilliant, and brave officer, but he was cashiered early in the war for disloyalty to the flag. The story of his disgrace is among the most singular of the many remarkable ones that the rebellion has produced. Major Williams was on the staff of Major-General George B. McClellan. One day several prominent officers from a distance were dined by the commanding general, and during the closing hour of the meal a brass band belonging to one of the volunteer regiments marched up to head-quarters to serenade "Little Mac" and his guests. Those bandmen hailed from a rural locality, where people generally knew more about agricultural implements than sax-horns or other musical instruments. However, by strict attention to practice, lasting as a rule from reveille to taps, the band had succeeded in getting tolerable control over two tunes, and of which was the "Star-spangled Banner" and, to use an old expression, "the other wasn't." The band began to play. Their repertoire was limited, but not so the time at their disposal. Over and over again they played two tunes, but with a decided "hankering" in favor of the "Star-spangled Banner." They played it so often that finally Major Williams petulently exclaimed, "D—n the Star-spangled Banner!" The words were speedily reported by some eavesdrop to Secretary Stanton at Washington. It so happened that only a few days before the Major's brother was hanged as a spy by General Rosecrans, in Tennessee. At the beginning of the war this brother was an officer on Lieutenant General Scott's staff. He used to communicate important military secrets to a relative of his, the daughter of a distinguished rebel General, and finally he deserted from Washington over to the enemy. In course of time Captain Williams and one other officer entered Rosecrans's line. They boldly assumed the role of officers of the staff, and ordered the troops of a certain brigade then on outpost duty to parade for inspection. Fortunately, they were suspected; they were arrested and sent to headquarters. Their trial followed and they soon payed the full penalty of their offense. It is said that Secretary Stanton always believed that his brother's fate disturbed Major Williams' loyalty, and that the objectionable words were spoken deliberately and from the bottom of his heart, But the Major's brother soldiers in and out of service, believed nothing of the kind, and always looked upon him as the unfortunate victim of circumstances. Major Williams tried frequently to have his case inquired into by the Government, but always without success.

CHILD-LIFE ON THE AMAZONS.

Little Fellows From Whom American Children May Learn a Lesson.

Mr. Herbert H. Smith in Scribner for July.

Child-life here is an exceedingly curious study; the little quiet creatures are so different from our romping American boys and girls. They get few caresses and give none; mother-love is mechanical; there is nothing of that overflow of tenderness, that constant watchful care, that sheds such a halo around our homes. The babies vegetate in their steady brown fashion, seldom crying or laughing, but lying all day in their hammock cradles and watching everything around them with keen eyes. As soon as the little boys and girls can toddle about they are left pretty much to their own resources, tumbling up the back stairs of life on a diet of mandioca meal and fish. The parents seldom punish their children, for they are very docile; when they do, the little ones pucker up their mouths and look sullen, but do not cry. Pleasure is expressed by a smile—among the little girls very often by a broad grin with abundent show of teeth—but an articulate laugh is a rarity.

It is interesting to watch how the mental traits of the race appear even in the young babies. If a plaything is given them they examine it gravely for a little while and then let it drop. Observe how different this is from a white baby's actions. A bright little six months old at home has four distinct methods of investigation; first by looking, second, by touching, then by cutting the object in its mouth; and finally by banging it against the floor. The brown menino just looks; he does not investigate at all. As the children grow older the same trait is apparent in almost every case. An Indian is content to see or hear a thing, without troubling himself about the whys and wherefores; even such incomprehensible pursuits as fossil-collecting, or butterfly-catching, or sketching provoke hardly any curiosity. The people look on quietly, sometimes asking a question or two, but soon dismissing the subject from their minds as something they are incapable of understanding. With all the crowding to see the lady of our party hardly a person asked why she came. So, too, the babies are unambitious, they do not cry after pretty colors or stretch out their hands to a candle. And the men have no appearent desire to better their lot. They go on just as their fathers did; submit to the impositions of the whites, a little sullenly, but without a thought of rebellion, unless there is a white or a half breed to lead them. The children do not care much for playthings; we rarely see one with a rag doll; the little boys delight in bows and arrows, but they take them as a part of their training. Sometimes the people have dances, in imitation of the festa sports, and we hear them humming the waltzes and quadrilles which quick ears have caught from the musicians. As an Indian will paddle all day, while his wife at home hardly ceases her monotonous cotton-beating, so the little ones have an inexhaustable gift of patience. Where a white child would fret and cry, the brown one sits all day perfectly still, but watching everything around him. To see a little Indian boy in a canoe, you would say that nothing of him was alive but his eyes.

PROF. HARRIS' RADICAL CURE
FOR SPERMATTORHŒA.
—THE—
"SEMINAL PASTILLE"

A Valuable Discovery and New Departure in Medical Science, an entirely New and positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent Cure of Seminal Emissions & Impotency by the only true way, viz: Direct Application to the principal seat of the Disease, acting by Absorption, and exerting its specific influence on the Seminal Vesicles Ejaculatory Ducts, Prostrate Gland and Urethra. The use of the Remedy is attended with no pain or inconvenience, it is quickly dissolved and soon absorbed, producing an immediate soothing and restorative effect upon the sexual and nervous organizations wrecked from self-abuse and excesses, stopping the drain from the system, restoring the mind to health and sound memory, removing the Dimness of Sight, Nervous Debility, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, Etc. Etc. and the appearance of premature old age usually accompanying this trouble, and restoring perfect Sexual Vigor, where it has been dormant for years. This mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a pronounced success. Drugs are too much prescribed in these troubles, and, as many can bear witness to, with but little if any permanent good. There is no Nonsense about this Preparation, Practical observation enables us to positively guarantee that it will give satisfaction. ——During the eight years that it has been in general use, we have thousands of testimonials as to its value, and it is now conceded by the Medical Profession to be the most rational means yet discovered of reaching and curing this very prevalent trouble, that is well known to be the cause of untold misery to so many, and upon whom Quacks prey with their useless nostrums and big fees. The Remedy is put up in a neat box, enough to last a month, and sent in a plain wrapper by mail sealed for $3.—Two boxes, (sufficient to effect a permanent cure unless in severe cases) $5.—Three boxes lasting three full months, will stop emissions, and restore vigor, in the worst cases $7.—Full DIRECTIONS for using will accompany EACH BOX.
(Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most sceptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected. Sent Sealed for stamp to any one. Sold ONLY by the —D D Bennett, of the Bower City Band, came here Tuesday night of last week and again on Tuesday afternoon of this week to drill the Cornet Band. The first evening was devoted to practice on Maritiana, and the last practice to rehearsing the music of Commencement day. Mr Bennet is certainly the best director that we ever saw handle a band, and has the happy faculty of imparting to his pupils an enthusiasm in playing that is very creditable to his skill as a musician. The Band made a great improvement in the rendition of their music in the very brief time which Mr Bennett devoted to them, and they feel under great obligations to him for his kindness in favoring them with his skilled services.

—Milton sent quite a delegation to the circus last Wednesday and everybody seemed well pleased.

—Mr and Mrs Ezra Crandall took the Milwaukee train Wednesday morning for Farina, Illinois. They went there to attend the Northwestern Association of Seventh Day Baptists, which met in annual session last week. They came back on Monday.

—The strawberry and ice cream festival at the Milton house parlors on Tuesday evening of last week was quite liberally patronized, and the proprietor realized quite a handsome little sum therefrom.

—Fred A Howe, Jr, of the Chicago and Pacific railway, is in town this week visiting his relatives.

—The Sons of Temperance are going to have a rousing old mass meeting at Clear Lake, Wednesday, the 9th inst.

—The class of '79 assembled with Classmate Crandall at the residence of his parents on Tuesday evening June 24th and partook of the annual class supper. It was a very pleasant social gathering and all seemed to enjoy the reunion heartily.

—Of the class in penmanship in Milton College the following are those who have made the greatest improvement for the spring term ending July 2d, 1879: Ladies, Miss Mary E McEwan, 1st; Miss Minnie Griggs, 2d. Gentlemen, C L Sanborn, 1st; Earl Wetmore, 2d. Best penmen, Miss Jennie Kidder and W H Borden.

Instructor.

—Mrs Eliza Colt, who has been confined to her bed for many months with that dread disease, consumption, was relieved from her sufferings by death on Thursday night. The funeral took place at the Seventh Day Baptist church, Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, Rev James Bailey officiating.

—J C Plumb attended the meeting of the State Horticultural Society at Green Bay last week. He was selected to respond to the address of welcome made by ex-Senator Howe.

Colonel John Mansfield.

The Republican State Convention of California has nominated Colonel John Mansfield for Governor, thus showing a decided appreciation of an excellent Wisconsin gentleman. Colonel Mansfield became a resident of Wisconsin about 1850, and resided at Kenosha for a few years, and removing in 1854 to Portage City. He practiced law at both places, and he was a brother-in-law of the somewhat noted Alvah Holmes, also a lawyer, and peculiar as a wag and politician. Colonel Mansfield remained in Portage till the war broke out when he enlisted, May 15, 1861, in the Second regiment, and was appointed Captain of Company G. He was promoted to Major of the same regiment February 2, 1863; Lieutenant Colonel, August 13 same year, and Colonel, February 9, 1864. He was variously wounded in the many battles in which the Second did such splendid fighting, and in December, 1864, he was transferred to General Hancock's Veteran Reserve Corps, in which he served till it was disbanded after the close of the war. He then remained in the State some time, afterwards going to California where he has since remained. He is now a resident of Los Angeles. Elisha Starr saw him frequently while he was on the Pacific coast recently, and reports him in good health and spirits.

Colonel Mansfield is a man of good ability; he displayed a grand amount of courage and endurance as a soldier; he was a good lawyer and a credit to his profession, and in his personal relation was amiable, genial and universally popular.

Judge Sharpstein, the Working Man's candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court of California, and Colonel Mansfield were neighbors at Kenosha for two or three years.

The Governor of Texas Shields a Cold-Blooded Murderer.

New Orleans Times.

As long as the Governor of Texas feels it his duty to shield criminals from the full penalty of the law, a decrease in the number of murders looked for. Governor Roberts has just commuted the sentence of Richard Coward from death by hanging to imprisonment for life. The murder which Coward committed was one of the most cold-blooded known to the history of the State. A man by the name of Schachtrupt and his wife had been witnesses against Coward's brother, who was charged with the crime of horse stealing. A few days after Schachtrupt and his wife had testified, Coward rode up to their house, which was situated in Houston, and, without a word of warning, shot Schachtrupt dead, and fired at Mrs. Schachtrupt, but missed her. Coward was tried, and the evidence was so clear and his crime so dastardly that the jury found him guilty of murder in the first degree. The case was appealed, and the judgment of the lower Court affirmed. Now comes Governor Roberts and releases Coward from his death penalty. Of course it cannot be asserted with certainty, but there is reasonable ground for believing, when all the circumstances are considered, that Coward will be set at liberty, or will regain his liberty in some way, before many years. What hope is there for putting a stop to crimes of violence in Texas when the Governor of the State uses the prerogative of his high office to rescue criminals like Coward from the fate they so richly deserve? There does not appear to have been a single extenuating circumstance in Coward's case. If the Governor extends clemency toward Coward, why should he not extend it to Currie and all the rest of the murderers of Texas? Truly, Texas seems to be a sort of Paradise for murderers.

Some Superior Snow.

The way the snow hangs on, writes a correspondence of the Springfield Republican, reminds me of a yarn which is told at the expense of a driver of a stage between North Adams and Williamstown, Mass., that happened last winter. The road was badly drifted, and locomotion was slow. "You have considerable snow up here?" the passenger said. Pointing to a long stretch of level before them, Jehu replied: "Do you see that cut ahead of you, and then that flat?" The stranger saw it. "Well," he continued, "I don't suppose you'd believe it, but I've seen snow on that flat forty feet deep for four months!" and he rolled his eyes around to see what kind of a story that was. But the stranger didn't smile; he wasn't at all abashed, but quietly replied: "Well that's pretty deep, I confess, but out where I came from we have snow deeper than that. We have it so deep out there, Mr. Driver, that we don't pretend to use it until it's three years old!" And then neither of them smiled, and the remainder of the journey was made in silence.

The Question of Economy.

Boston Journal, (Rep.)

Some Democratic newspapers are boasting that Congress has voted $12,000,000 less to the army during the past four years than the Republicans did during the preceding four years. Very good. The Democratic Congress in four years has voted $10,000,000 more to river and harbor improvements—that is, has wasted $10,000,000 more—than did the Republicans in the preceding four years.

INSTANTLY RELIEVES.
6,000 FEET ABOVE THE SEA.
The following testimonials are from Messrs. J. O. Bosworth & Co., Denver, Col., large and influential druggists. They report unprecedentedly large sales and universal satisfaction. No other disease is so alarmingly prevalent in that region. They speak of the following gentlemen as among their best citizens:
SORELY AFFLICTED.
J. O. Bosworth & Co., Denver, Col.: Gentlemen.—Prompted by a fellow-feeling for those afflicted with Catarrh, I wish to add my testimony in behalf of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. I have been sorely afflicted with this fearful disease for four years, and have tried every known remedy without avail, until I bought a bottle of the above CURE from you, which gave me almost instant relief. It being a constitutional as well as a local remedy, I believe it to be all that is claimed for it, a Radical Cure for Catarrh.
Very truly yours, WM. AMETIVE,
Denver, Sept. 28, 1875. with Jenson, Bliss & Co.
GREATLY AFFLICTED.
Messrs. J. O. Bosworth & Co., Denver: Gentlemen,—I take pleasure in recommending SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH to all who are afflicted with this disease. I was greatly afflicted with it for a long time, and cured it with two bottles of the above CURE. About a year afterwards I was again taken with Catarrh quite severely, and immediately sent for another bottle, which fixed me all right, giving me relief from the first dose. I am confident that this remedy will do all that is claimed for it, and more too. Wishing you success in its introduction, I am very truly yours,
A. W. SMITH,
Denver, Oct. 4, 1875. of Smith & Doll.
TRIED EVERYTHING.
Messrs. J. O. Bosworth & Co., Denver, Col.: Gentlemen,—I have used SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, and it has given perfect satisfaction. I have tried almost everything, and it is the only thing that has given me relief. I therefore take pleasure in recommending its use to all afflicted with Catarrh of any kind, and offer this as my testimony to its benefits.
Very truly,
Denver, Oct. 1, 1875. W. S. DECKER

It clears the head and throat so thoroughly that, taken each morning on rising, there are no unpleasant secretions and no disagreeable hacking during the entire day, but an unprecedented clearness of voice and respiratory organs. —Rev. TUESDAY, JULY 1, 1879.

CITY AND COUNTY.

BRIEFLETS.

—Last half of '79.

—July to bat, August on deck.

—Dancing music is always sole-inspiring.

—Congregational lawn party at Mr. Ed. Tallman's this evening to which all are invited.

—The Police Court to-day is as dry as a man after eating mackerel. No tramps even to break the monotony.

—Consult Dr. Beebe to-morrow (Wednesday), at the Myers house, for diseases of the eye or ear. Office hours from 12 to 3 o'clock.

—The Bar Association meets to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock to perfect their organization. Permanent officers will probably be elected.

—The Fire Department will take part, in uniform, in the grand street parade, preceding the picnic celebration, on the Fourth, and will be on the grounds.

—The diagram of Lappin's hall is at King's book store, and holders of tickets for the readings to-morrow night can reserve their seats without extra charge by applying there.

—The Monroe folk are greatly excited about a calf which was born without any tail. By the time the yarn goes the round of the newspapers there will be a great variety of tales about that calf.

—Ladies want to remember the special premiums that Heimstreet offers for the Fair—3, 2, and 1 dollar in gold. Three prizes for the best three puddings. See page 30 of the premium list.

—To-day Miss Mary Wilcox, daughter of C. T. Wilcox, celebrated her eleventh birthday at her home with Miss Leland, on Jackson street. A large number of her young friends joined in a general jolly time.

—The Concordia Society returned last evening from the Saengerfest in Milwaukee. They were met at the depot by the Bower City Band, and escorted to their hall. A feast was prepared for them of which they partook heartily.

—Yesterday afternoon there was a children's party on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Bliss' residence, in celebration of the birthday of little Faith Wilmarth, of Chicago, and Master Bliss. The little folk enjoyed themselves hugely.

—The suits of W. W. Greer and A. A. Dart, Manufacturing Company vs. the Empire Cross Spring Company, which have been on trial in the United States Court at Pittsburgh, have been decided in favor of the Empire Cross Spring Company.

—There promises to be a change in the choosing of seats in the Opera House. Heretofore those in the dress circle have been the favorites, but since the parquet has been elevated and the seats rearranged that part of the house promises to be more popular and many will prefer seats there.

—No effort will be spared to make the picnic celebration at Buob's grove, on the Fourth, the best, most complete and enjoyable in every respect of any held here for many years. The grounds are neat, clean, shady, grassy, and commodious, and the crowd can be comfortable and cool. The programme for the day is full and attractive, and all present will have a good time.

—The Bower City Band is to furnish the music for the readings to-morrow night at Lappin's hall. The price of admission is is only twenty-five cents, and seats can be reserved without extra charge at King's. Tickets are for sale at the bookstores and by the following gentlemen: Dr. J. B. Whiting, M. M. Conant, B. F. Crossett, Robert Cairns, Jr., and E. L. Dimock.

—J. W. Hogan has resigned his position in the Industrial School at Waukesha and is now at home. He will remain here for some time looking after some business interests of his own, and will then perhaps return to his old position. He has filled it to the entire satisfaction of all, and has in his possession some choice testimonials from the officers of that institution, who are unanimous in desiring him to return as soon as possible.

—The many friends of Father Curtis, the founder and first pastor of the Congregational church at Emerald Grove, will be saddened at learning that he is now lying at the point of death at his son's home in Nebraska, and that news of his death is daily expected. Father Curtis has reached his four score years, and the infirmities of age are upon him. He is widely known in this section of the State, as he was among the early settlers and spent many years of his life in and about Emerald Grove.

—There is still trouble about the fence [illegible] caused the row in which young [illegible] old man Grimes. Those opposed to having the fence stand are busy tearing down, and the opposed party keep equally busy putting it up again. The dispute should be settled by the courts before another deadly assault takes place. Already there are complaints about abusive language and threats being exchanged, and there is no telling where the fuss may end. One party claims that the fence is an obstruction to the highway and that the enclosed lots are part of a street, and the others denying this.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.

The thermometer at 6 o'clock last night stood at 84 degrees above; at 1 o'clock a. m., to-day at 63 degrees above; at 7 o'clock a. m., at 63 degrees above. and at 1 o'clock p. m., 82 degrees above. Clear.

The indications to-day are, warmer southeast winds, clear weather and falling barometer.

THE WIDOW'S VICTIM.

Last night there was a goodly sized audience at Lappin's hall to enjoy the entertainment, given for the benefit of Christ Episcopal church. The programme opened with a quartet consisting of Misses Peterson and Josslyn and Messrs Bladen and Ashley, who sang "Awake Sweet Love, Awake." A farce was then given which called forth much merriment and applause. It was titled "The Widow's Victim." Mrs. Charles Palmer took the part of the bewitching and mischievous widow, doing it admirably, and Mrs. F. F. Stevens made a most successful lady's maid, taking the Irish character in such a way as to keep the audience roaring with laughter. Mr. Will McKey acted as Jerry Clip, the stage-struck barber, and acquitted himself in a manner which would have done great credit to a professional. Mr. John McKey, as Twitter, the jealous husband, threw an excitable enthusiasm into his work which could not well be bettered. Miss Dolly Patten, as Twitter's wife, sustained her part well, while Mr. Tom McKey, as Byron Tremaine Peham Podge, the victim of the widow, and a susceptible exquisite, with all the airs of a swell mob, kept the auditors on the broad laugh. His make-up and movements were in perfect keeping with his part. The costumes were well-chosen, and it would be difficult to point out any chances for improvement. There has never been a better amateur performance presented here, and many of the professional troupes which visit Janesville do not reach the standard of last night. There was no hesitancy, no stage stiffness, but all seemed at home, and lost complete'y their own personalities in the characters which they so well assumed. It was a happy hit. At the close of the comedy, Miss Ella Peterson and Miss Emma Josslyn sang a very pleasing duet, "Beautiful Moonlight," Miss Jennie Stevens accompanying on the piano. The ladies were warmly encored, but responded only by a simple acknowledgement before the curtain. The entertainment was in all respects a success. Much credit was due to Mr. Fethers for his kindly assistance in managing the entertainment, and his aid in making it a success. Following the entertainment proper, was a merry dance in Apollo hall, where Anderson's full orchestra furnished the music.

BIBLE SCHOOL DAY.

The Baptists celebrated their quarterly Bible School Day last Sabbath, with interesting and profitable services. The pastor gave appropriate discourse both morning and evening, and the session of the school from twelve to one o'clock was occupied with public exercises in accordance with a previously prepared programme. Rev. W. H. Douglas, Miss Mary Barnard, Misses Flora Baldwin and Annie Davis jointly, and Master David Tennant, from the school, rendered well their allotted parts, while O. H. Fethers, Esq, kindly contributed a reading in the excellent style for which he is so justly noted. The Secretary, W. G. Heller, presented his accurate and careful report, showing an average attendance for the quarter of 256. A large number have been present every Sabbath. The faithful scholars, whose names were given as having passed an examination on the studies of the first quarter, again came to the front in the same relation—one name, that of Miss Cora Bates, being added to the number. The singing, under the lead of Mr. Bennett and his choir was inspiring, and the promptness with which the exercises closed at the appropriate hour was commendable.

COLLEGE CONCERNS.

The Hon. Leonard Swett, of Chicago, addressed a large audience at the First Congregational church at Beloit last evening, in behalf of the Archaen Union of the College. His theme was "Ten years on the Circuit with Abraham Lincoln." Many of the personal reminiscences he gave were new, and never having appeared in print were of much interest to the audience. Mr. Swett is an easy, fluent speaker, and thoroughly in love with his subject as he was, his effort was very pleasing and acceptable.

The city is full of strangers and friends of the College, who come to witness the closing ceremonies of the year. The weather is cool and delightful, and an unusually good time is anticipated and in progress.

Wm E Clarke—Dear Sir: HUNT'S REMEDY has cured my wife of Dropsy in its worst form. All hope had left us for months. All say that it is a miracle. Water had dropped from her right limb for months. Forty-eight hours has taken all the extra water from the system. All other means had been tried. None succeeded but HUNT'S REMEDY. Anthony Atwood,

Providence, R I, Jan. 8, 1879

I can testify to the virtue of HUNT'S REMEDY in Kidney Diseases from actual trial, having been greatly benefited by its use. E G Taylor

COMMANDMENTS!

1st. When ready, thou shalt come to me and trade.

2d. Thou shalt always keep my name in memory, and forget all others in the same business.

3d. Thou shalt honor me and my men with thy trade; so that thou mayst long live in the land and continue to trade with me.

4th. Thou shalt not buy of men who advertise to sell at cost: auction stores; peddlers, or other sharks, else thou get machine made and spongy leather, and pay double their value.

5th. Thou shalt not raise thy voice against my prices, as my goods are marked at Rock Bottom.

6th. Thou shalt not dare to pay for goods in bad money, nor say "Chalk it on the slate."

7th. Thou shalt not steal from me, as I want all I have got, and more too.

8th. Thou shalt get good bargains, as I am content to live on small profits.

9th. Thou shalt not ask me to run book accounts, but pay for thy goods in cash or notes, and buy no more than thou canst pay for when thou agreest to.

10th. Thou shalt buy C. H. Payne's Harness, coarse and fine, his Trunks and Satchels, Whips, &c., and shall always go to his shop to get your repairing done in preferance to all others.
